10 Bed Property For Sale in St. Helier

Description

A substantial ten bedroom lodging house in the heart of town, offering investors a ready made income property in one of the island's most consistently sought after rental locations. The accommodation is arranged over three floors and centres around a large communal kitchen, with generous space for residents to cook and eat together. Several separate reception areas give the house a flexibility rarely found in properties of this type, providing room to relax, work or socialise away from the bedrooms. 2 additional flats currently occupied by staff as well as scope to create additional bedrooms from areas currently utilised for office work. The central position is a major draw for tenants. Shops, restaurants, the main employment districts and public...
